LYMAN ALLYN PRESENTS ARTWORK BY LOCAL STUDENTS

NEW LONDON – The Lyman Allyn is proud to present artworks by students from area schools in the Lehman Auditorium. Students, parents, teachers, families, and art enthusiasts of all ages are invited to explore artwork created by students, grades K-12, from Interdistrict School for Arts & Communications (ISAAC), Winthrop Elementary, C.B. Jennings Elementary, The Williams School, Bennie Dover Jackson Middle School, New London Arts Magnet Middle School and New London High School. Two- and three-dimensional artworks, in a variety of media, are included in the series of “pop-up” shows. A celebration of learning and artistic excellence, this exhibit showcases student talent, creativity and critical thinking.

About the Lyman Allyn Art Museum

The Lyman Allyn Art Museum welcomes visitors from New London, southeastern Connecticut and all over the world. Established in 1926 with a gift from Harriet Allyn in memory of her seafaring father, the Museum opened the doors of its beautiful neoclassical building surrounded by 12 acres of green space in 1932. Today it presents several changing exhibitions each year and houses a fascinating collection of over 18,000 objects from ancient times to the present, including art from Africa, Asia, the Americas and Europe, with particularly strong collections of American paintings, decorative arts and Victorian toys and doll houses.

The Museum is located at 625 Williams Street, New London, Connecticut, exit 83 off I-95. The Museum is open Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. and Sundays 1 - 5 p.m.; it is closed on Mondays and major holidays. For more information call 860.443.2545, ext. 2129 or visit www.lymanallyn.org.
